93RD GENERAL ASSEMBLY

INTRODUCED BY SENATOR GOODMAN.

TERRY L. SPIELER, Secretary.

4472S.02I

AN ACT

To repeal section 452.075, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof one new section relating to alimony and maintenance.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri, as follows:

Section A. Section 452.075, RSMo, is repealed and one new section
2 enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 452.075, to read as follows:

452.075. 1. When a divorce has been granted, and the court has made an 2 order or decree providing for the payment of alimony and maintenance, the 3 remarriage of the former spouse shall relieve the spouse obligated to pay support 4 from further payment of alimony to the former spouse from the date of the 5 remarriage, without the necessity of further court action, but the remarriage shall 6 not relieve the former spouse from the provisions of any judgment or decree or 7 order providing for the support of any minor children.

8 2. When a divorce has been granted, and the court has made an 9 order or decree providing for the payment of alimony and maintenance, 10 a finding that a former spouse receiving alimony or maintenance is 11 cohabitating or has cohabitated with another person in a relationship 12 of a romantic nature shall relieve the spouse obligated to pay support 13 from further payment of alimony to the former spouse from the date of 14 such finding. The order of the court terminating alimony or 15 maintenance shall not relieve the former spouse from the provisions of 16 any judgment or decree or order providing support for any minor.

17 3. Cohabitation, as used in this section, means the act of two 18 adults dwelling together continuously and habitually in a romantic 19 relationship, even if this relationship is not solemnized by 20 marriage. The romantic nature of any cohabitation is evidenced by the 21 voluntary mutual assumption of those marital rights, duties, and 22 obligations which are usually ascribed to the institution of marriage, 23 and which include, but are not necessarily dependent on, sexual 24 relations.

25 4. Continued and habitual cohabitation occurs when the former 26 spouse receiving alimony or maintenance resides with another person 27 in a romantic relationship for a period of ninety or more consecutive 28 days. The court may determine that a continued cohabitation exists if 29 there is evidence that the supported spouse resides with another
30 person in a romantic relationship for periods of less than ninety days 31 and the two periodically separated in order to circumvent the ninety-32 day requirement.
